We would like to express our appreciation to for the time and effort spent over the past several months devising a method of automated document control for the Office of the Director of Training and Education. She was able to devise a program which can be manipulated to meet all of our document accountability needs, and one which can be used office-wide in the future. She has been very helpful to this office in taking steps towards office automation and is indeed very knowledgeable of the WANG system.
